SHERWOOD DEALS
WITH BANKS BARED

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—Although he failed to show any direct connection between the bank accounts of Mayor Walker and Russell T. Sherwood, the mayor's financial agent, Samuel Seabury presented evidence before the Housatonic committee showing Sherwood made bank deposits of nearly $1,000,000.

Sherwood showed that Sherwood, from January 1, 1928, when Mayor Walker first took office, to August 5, 1931, when he himself disappeared, deposited in four banks and six brokerage accounts and letters of credit a total purchase of securities, a total of $700,225.52, of which $472,004.69 was in cash. These deposits do not include the $263,838 secret account which would make a total of $964,063.

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN.
NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—A newspaper publisher's explanation of a brokerage account from which Mayor Walker drew $246,000 profit with a son's investment was given to the Housatonic legislative committee today after a city employee had contradicted some of the mayor's own testimony.

The aftermath of Walker's own two-day appearance before the inquiry board ended with Samuel Seabury attacking the personal blames of the Mayor and those of Russell T. Sherwood, missing accountant.

Sherwood, testimony had shown, put nearly $1,000,000 into his bank and brokerage accounts between the day Walker became mayor and the day his $35,500-a-year account disappeared.

Sherwood, gray-haired, committee counsel, opened the day's session by attacking the mayor's testimony and contending the committee had proof, in spite of Walker's denial, that Sherwood had been his personal business agent.

The session ended with Seabury introducing documentary evidence by which he sought to show that the finances of Walker and Sherwood were intertwined, and that the accountant drew checks for the mayor from time Walker has said he knew nothing about.

Block Testifies.

The story of the joint brokerage account from which the mayor profited so handsomely was given by Paul Block.

The publisher said he established the account after his 10-year-old son, Billy, while waiting to go for an automobile ride with the mayor, asked how Walker could live on the $25,000-a-year getting.

Block said he was forced to give the explanation because he feared it would sound "silly and sentimental."

It was a story of a great personal friendship, in which Walker figured as an individual and not as a mayor of the world's largest city.

The man who was called to testify against his own chief executive was Park Commissioner Walter R. Herrick.

Walker had denied he ever owned,

SENATE APPROVES BANK CHECK LEVY; POSTAL RATE HIKE

$300,000,000 More Added to Revenue Measure as Troublesome Sales Tax
Issue Looms Again.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—In a driving finish, the senate approved the remaining rate schedules of the revenue bill tonight and reached the momentous dispute over the sales tax.

Almost $300,000,000 was put into the budget-balancing legislation in today's nine-hour session. Increases in the first and second-class postal rates, involving $180,000,000 new revenue, and the two cents check tax, expected to yield $95,000,000, were accepted.

More than $40,000,000 was saved by the Senate in its handling of the sales tax issue, an attempt by Senator Howell, republican, Nebraska, to exempt checks of $5 and less from the two-cent levy. Vice President Curtis, without a moment of hesitation, announced the $95,000,000 tax. The Senate rejected the proposal, but did not vote. The Senate realized the tie had resulted and waited eagerly for the clerk to hand the roll call result to the vice president.

Sales Tax Issue.

Leaders of both sides of the dispute sales tax issue claimed tonight the Senate would be driven to the sales levy to find the additional revenue if the $40,000,000 were lost.

As a result, opponents of the proposal sales tax issue claimed tonight the proposal was beaten. The decisive votes by the house against it were expected to have an influence in the senate vote. Nevertheless, advocates claimed a bare majority.

The bill tonight stood about $70,000,000 short of the budget, including the stock transfer levy and the oil pipeline tax, remained to be acted upon finally. Their expected approval will cut the shortage down to about $37,000,000.

Increases in first and second-class

Governor Roosevelt Sponsors Back-to-Soil Relief Movement

New York Governor Announces Plan Whereby Impoverished City Families Will Be Sent to "Subsistence Farms."

TUCKAHOE, N. Y., May 27.—(UPI)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today approved a plan for relief of unemployment distress so new that it is almost revolutionary. The plan calls for a system of "subsistence farms," to which impoverished families from cities and towns in the state will be sent for the duration of the depression. It will be put into effect immediately.

The program is to be financed by state and local relief funds. The farm will be small in acreage and located in thinly populated regions. The families sent to them will raise their own food and thus be partly self-supporting.

"I can announce that this new and important relief measure is immediately effective," said Governor Roosevelt, in addressing a luncheon meeting of the Westchester county democrats.

"It seems to me to be a profoundly significant one because it is a bold step forward toward alleviating the critical situation of so many of those who have suffered from depression. It is a plan which has hurtled them as a machine does parts on a bolt."

"Today by letter the administration is authorizing every public welfare commissioner in the state to place him in a position to administer the subsistence farms. The administration is authorizing them to pay the rent on small farms and to provide tools, seeds for planting, and household necessities to the extent of what they can afford."

"The process of readjustment, of restoring unemployed families to independence, is slow one, but I believe

Political Future of Germany at Stake as President Returns to Berlin.

BY FREDERICK KUH.

BERLIN, May 27.—(UPI)—The political future of Germany will be at stake Sunday when President Paul von Hindenburg returns from a ten-day vacation in Neudeck. The aged chief executive will confer at once with Chancellor Heinrich Brüning and shortly thereafter he is expected to decide whether to:

1. Publicly reaffirm confidence in the government of Chancellor Brüning, whom he would then authorize to reconstruct the cabinet along more pronounced nationalist lines, depending on army leaders but without fascist participation.

2. Pave the way for Brüning to be replaced by an undisguised right wing predominantly fascist—government, perhaps in the form of a directorate but in any case enlarging the powers of the military.

One of the first issues the president will insist upon clarifying will be whether the civil or military branches of the government shall be supreme. Several groups of Brüning's most formidable political foes strongly believe the hour is propitious for the overthrow of the present regime.

About half of the 12 cabinet members are considered uncertain of retaining their posts in the reorganization.

Opposition critics of Brüning's policies, which have been directed mainly to the stabilization of the economy, are inclined to support his retention.

Senator Reed, republican, North Dakota, who sought unsuccessfully for an agreement for a vote, said he would renew that request, and he predicted that "ultimately" it would be granted.

Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, objected yesterday, asserting, "I don't think any senator has a right to ask for such an agreement for a single measure when the senate calendar is cluttered with legislation."

Opposition leaders were appalled by the senator's statement.

The session ended with Seabury introducing documentary evidence by which he sought to show that the finances of Walker and Sherwood were intertwined, and that the accountant drew checks for the mayor from time Walker has said he knew nothing about.

Block Testifies.

The story of the joint brokerage account from which the mayor profited so handsomely was given by Paul Block.

Lack of funds is said to have caused the postponement.

BILL GUARANTYING BANKS' DEPOSITS PASSED BY HOUSE

Steagall Measure Approved Without Record Vote Despite Opposition
of Administration.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(UPI)—

Swiftly overriding stubborn opposition, democratic leaders today steered the Steagall billion-dollar bank deposit guaranty bill through the house.

The measure went to the senate with only one major change from its original text, although Representative McFadden, of Pennsylvania, ranking republican on the banking committee, said, "It is striking the worst blow to the administration of the federal reserve system."

Chairman Steagall, of the committee, contended, however, the measure, making available to the banks failed or administered by the federal reserve system, would be sworn in as judge of the northern circuit, succeeding Judge J. H. Sutton, as member of the state appellate bench.

Ben T. Gaillard, of Gainesville, who will be sworn in today as judge of the northern circuit, succeeding Judge J. H. Sutton, as member of the state appellate bench.

TEXTBOOK COMMITTEE NAMED BY COMMISSION

Board of Nine Will Make Recommendations; Bids To Be Opened June 8.

Personnel of a committee of nine to make recommendations to the state board of education functioning as the state text-book commission, and of an advisory committee of technical experts was made public late Friday after a meeting of the board.

Books on Georgia's new books will be opened in Atlanta June 8. S. M. L. Duggan, state superintendent, announced. Samples of books must be submitted by that time in order that they may be turned over to the sub-committee for examination.

Members of the committee are: W. O. Cheneau, principal Tech High school; J. P. Cash, Canton city superintendent; W. J. Andrews, Stephens county superintendent, Toccoa; Miss Bessie Franklin, principal Monroe grammar schools; J. Marvin Starr, Lowell county superintendent, Newnan; W. W. McCullum, Atlanta superintendent, Savannah schools; Miss Mae Woodward, Hawkinsville, first grade teacher; J. F. Lambert, Peach county superintendent, Fort Valley, and W. W. Stancil, Fitzgerald superintendent.

The committee of experts to advise with the state board after recommendations have been made by the main committee is composed of Ralph Newton, of Waycross, chairman; T. N. Bivins, of Milledgeville, and Knox Walker, of Atlanta. Walker is a supervisor of the Fulton county schools,

The committee will recommend three bidders on each subject up for adoption and from this list the contracts will be awarded.

Harris Is Convicted Of Tennessee Murder

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 27.—(AP)—Ishan G. Harris, namesake and great-grandson of Tennessee's Civil War governor, tonight was convicted of first degree murder for the death of J. D. Smith, 64. James Callis tried with Harris, was acquitted.

The jury recommended that Harris be given life imprisonment.

In accordance with regular procedure in Tennessee, Harris will not be sentenced until his motion for a new trial has been heard. Judge Phil Wallace set this hearing for June 8.

Harris came before the court yesterday to 20 years' imprisonment upon conviction for murder. After serving several years of the term he was condemned by Governor Alfred Taylor, a friend of Harris' great-grandfather.

A. T. U. TO CONDUCT MEMORIAL RITES AT 3 P. M. SUNDAY

Annual memorial services for deceased members will be held by the Atlanta Typographical Union No. 48 at the printers' lot in Oakland cemetery at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon when families and friends of dead typographers will gather at gravesides. William Newton will preside and the invocation will be given by Rev. William Wier.

The memorial address will be given by John T. Boileau and P. L. Rikard will give the roll call of the dead. Each event on the program will be interspersed with religious songs and Rev. Wier will pronounce the benediction.

Officers of the Atlanta Typographical Union are William Newton, president; R. R. Tisdale, vice president; W. Ben Atchison, recorder, and Walter H. Grant, secretary-treasurer. All members and their friends were invited to attend the memorial exercises.

DEFEATED CANDIDATES EXPRESS APPRECIATION

The unsuccessful candidates for nomination in Wednesday's primary Friday in a series of thanks.

Carroll B. McGaughen, who sought the post of superintendent of electrical affairs, and Homer R. Hannah, defeated for nomination as councilman from the third ward, were those asking for their friends to thank.

McGaughen said with genuine appreciation that I take this opportunity of heartily thanking my many friends and supporters who assisted me in the primary election.

Hannah said: "I wish to take this opportunity to thank my many friends and supporters for their loyalty in my race. It is with a degree of pride and gratification that I review their efforts in my behalf."

Major Key's Bible Class To Hold Outing Sunday

Leaves and fishes are to be the menu Sunday when the James L. Key Sunday school class quits the Rialto theater temporarily for the wide open spaces.

Ben L. Brooks, president of the class, announced Friday that the public is invited as usual to attend the Sunday school lesson and have "dinner in the ground" with the class, which will have a picnic at 10 o'clock at Cooley's lake, on Wieuna road. Major Key will teach the lesson first and then the entire day will be devoted to eating and the annual outing.

The affair will supplant the regular lesson at the Rialto theater.

Oglethorpe To Honor Archibald W. Taylor

Archibald Wellington Taylor, one of America's outstanding educators, doctor of law, lecturer at commencement exercises of Oglethorpe University at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night. He is director of the state schools of higher education of New York University.

Mr. Taylor has received several honorary degrees since his graduation at Deane College in Nebraska, including master degrees from A. W. Taylor, the University of Wisconsin, and is a graduate student of the University of Chicago and the University of Pennsylvania.

The committee will recommend three bidders on each subject up for adoption and from this list the contracts will be awarded.

SCHOOLS OF COUNTY END REGULAR TERM

Fulton county schools Friday closed their doors for the school year, and are again closed until June 6, when summer schools will open in a number of buildings. More than 19,000 students were liberated from classrooms.

Superintendent Jerry A. Wells predicted that when the schools open at September, the enrollment will exceed 20,000. Merger of Milton and Campbell counties added 4,000 students to the Fulton schools on January 1, 1932, and if the people of Roswell vote next month to abandon their independent system, 300 more students will be added through merger.

At the same time, Captain John Peel, member of the department for 33 years, applied for a pension of $100 a month. He draws $197.50 a month. Several other captains, ordered to apply for pension by the board, are attempting to defer action until October.

BOARD MAY RETIRE MORE FIRE OFFICERS

Further consideration of plans of the Atlanta board of firemen to retire officers physically unfit is slated for a special meeting at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, it was announced Friday.

At the same time, Captain John Peel, member of the department for 33 years, applied for a pension of $100 a month. He draws $197.50 a month.

Several other captains, ordered to apply for pension by the board, are attempting to defer action until October.

COOLEY'S LAKE OPENS TO PUBLIC SATURDAY

Cooley's lake, which is on the Stratford road, off the Wieuna road, will open to the public Saturday. A swimming contest at 4 o'clock will feature the opening.

The lake also offers picnic grounds.

Five Municipal "Swimmin' Holes" To Be Opened for Summer Today

Splashes galore will herald the advent of Atlanta's swimming season at 2 o'clock this afternoon when the five municipal pools will be opened officially.

George I. Simons, general manager of parks and playgrounds, announced that all the past admission will be free for the first year, though with or without the price can enjoy the first dives to their hearts' content.

The individual conscience of the bather will dictate the type and material of suit worn—just so long as it is "decent," as word hard to define.

Pool at Piedmont, Grant, Maddox, Oakland City and Moreley will be the municipal open swimming centers, and those in most of the subdivisions and other pools also will open today.

City pools will be open from 10:30 to 12:30 in the mornings, except Sunday, when they will close at 8 o'clock.

and from 2 in the afternoon until 9:30 o'clock at night, including Sunday.

Children under 14 years old will be admitted free at all times. Others must pay 15 cents admission after 10:30.

Opening of the Moreley park pool will be celebrated by a free public dance in the park pavilion, with music furnished by the Commanders.

SECRETARIES HONOR MEMBER'S MEMORY

A resolution honoring the memory of Harry T. Moore has been unanimously passed by the Secretaries Club of Atlanta, of which Mr. Moore was a member. Mr. Moore was praised for his noble attributes and his unselfish devotion to duty. Copies of the resolution were placed in the club records and mailed to the family of the deceased.

Mothers who guard their children's health know Colonial Bread

Now, more than ever before, mothers realize the importance of protecting the health of their loved ones. Modern living, with its greater activity and interests, imposes new strains on children, as well as grown-ups. Restless little hands and feet—always on the move—are constantly using energy—energy that must be replaced by food.

Good bread is a convenient and desirable food. It digests quickly into energy, building bones and muscles, replacing worn out tissues and reviving lagging spirits.

Good bread is economical, clean and safe. Mothers who guard their children's health know this and naturally are careful to buy only good bread.

FOUR LIVES LOST AS SHIPS COLLIDE

Courage and Skill Save Others as Savannah Liner Sinks Freighter.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., May 27.—(UPI)—A captain's skillful seamanship and the courage of a negro lookout averted a heavy loss of life early today when two coastwise freighters collided in a thick fog off Block Island and one went to the bottom.

Four men apparently perished and 31 others were rescued when the City of Chattanooga rammed and sank the Grecian, a vessel scarcely half her size.

Of the Grecian's crew, a checkup early tonight showed two dead, two missing, three seriously injured, six others injured but still aboard ship, one delirious from fright, and 21 unburnt en route to Boston on the Chattanooga. None of the Chattanooga's 85 passengers or 28 crew members were injured and indications were that this vessel was virtually undamaged.

The Merchants & Miners Transportation Company, which operated the Grecian, reported recovery of the bodies of Edward L. Forrest, Portmouth, Va., second assistant engineer, and Charles Crowley, seaman, R. L. steward. Those missing were James Merrivether, Philadelphia, negro messboy, and Zamory Lawless, Portmouth, Va., negro seaman. They, too, were believed dead.

One hero of the tragic collision was Captain C. G. Bowles of the Chattanooga, who kept the bow of his 4,343-ton vessel in the gaping hole it had torn in the Grecian's side, holding the smaller craft afloat while those members of the Grecian's

Italian King Praises Americans' Art Work

ROME, May 27.—(AP)—King Victor Emmanuel visited the American Academy of Fine Arts today and looked over its annual exhibition. He was received by Ambassador John W. Garrett and Mrs. Garrett.

Officials of the academy and their majesty talked at length in English and his majesty showed a lively interest in the work of art. He congratulated 15 Americans who won the "Prix de Rome."

The American prize winners included John M. Sitton, Greenville, S. C., and William M. Simpson, Norfolk, Va.

crew who had not been pitched into the sea chambered over the Chattanooga's broken safety bulkhead.

Sharing the hero role with the Chattanooga's master was Tom Nottage, a lanky, raw-boned negro, who was the Grecian lookout at the time of the crash. He had seen the larger vessel loom suddenly through the dense fog. Seeing the stars he saw the glow of Chattanooga's starboard lights.

"She was shipping water like Niagara Falls," Nottage related late today on his arrival at the United States Marine hospital here to be treated for broken ribs. "We didn't have much time." But he went below and made sure no one went down with the ship.

BOTH SHIPS FAMILIAR TO SAVANNAH HARBOR

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 27.—(AP)—Both the steamship Chattanooga and the freighter Grecian, which figured in the accident off Block Island early this morning, are familiar figures in the marine traffic of Savannah. Hunt for Lindbergh Baby Killer Proceeds Without Development.

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 27.—(AP)—While John Hughes Curtis, confessed faker of contacts with the Lindbergh baby kidnappers, expressed contentment with the treatment accorded him by Hunterdon county jail officials, the hunt for the baby's killer continued without important developments.

Curtis, asked by county officials if he were being given proper treatment and attention, was described by them as uncomplaining. Both he and his family were said to be anxious to have his future status disposed of quickly.

One step in that direction is expected tomorrow when the findings of the grand jury, which heard charges that Curtis obstructed justice by giving false information in the search for the kidnaper and slayer of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., will be handed to Justice T. W. Trenchard at Flemington.

It had been reported the grand jury indicted the North Carolina man and the Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck expects to push for a start of Curtis' trial during the week of June 13. W. C. Pender, Curtis' Norfolk attorney, however, has indicated he may ask a postponement to July.

Hauck said today he would notify Pender as soon as the grand jury's report was known and would urge Pender to make arrangements as soon as possible if a trial is necessary.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is expected to take the stand for the prosecution in event of a trial. Mrs. Lindbergh, who is expecting another baby in August, will not be called to testify, Hauck said.

Delayed Liquor Search Brings Guilt Reversal

NEW ORLEANS, May 27.—(AP)—Reversing a conviction in a prohibition case, the fifth United States circuit court of appeals in a decision handed down here held that an affidavit setting aside liquor which was purchased ten days before issuance of a warrant is not sufficient cause for obtaining a warrant for search in the night time.

The ruling reversed and remanded a conviction of Federal Judge Wayne G. Bassett of the eastern Louisiana district, who had overruled a motion to suppress evidence and objections to admission of the evidence in the case of Thomas Di Stefano, of Baton Rouge, on trial for sale and possession of liquor and possession of property designed to manufacture liquor. Di Stefano was convicted on all counts except sale.

Taking as his subject "Birth Control—Promise or Menace?" Dr. Van Dusen admitted that birth control might be overdone. So also might other things, including even religion, he said. He cited some of the objections to it, that it menaced growth of population; was injurious to health, was demoralizing and conducive to immorality.

A nation's greatness, however, is not in population, the speaker said. Where injury to health had resulted from birth control, he said, the wrong method was probably used. As for immorality, he said there were no statistics on this subject. It was a fact, however, that immorality flourished in the early Christian era before birth control was thought of.

Showing its advantages, Dr. Van Dusen said that birth control promised health to wives and mothers; lessened abortions; gave children a better chance; lowered infant mortality, and reduced dependency and criminality. No unskilled worker, he said, could afford more than two children, and it was this class that bore the largest number.

He asked his audience to work for a change in the law which prohibits the sending of literature on contraception through the mail.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. C. C. Aven.

WEALTHY SULTAN OVERLOOKS 2 WIVES IN DRAWING UP WILL

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—His imperial majesty Sultan Ahmed Shah Karkar, Persian potentate, who had so many wives that he overlooked two of them in drawing up his will, has taken excellent care of those he remembered.

This was disclosed today by the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, which as executor under the deceased ruler's will, has filed an accounting with the New York Surrogate's Court. In order to bring the two forgotten wives into the legal fold, the New York bank had the will reopened for probate last June 18. All told, the sultan had ten wives.

The sultan's son, the late shah had $3,000,000 in cash and securities at the time of his death. In addition, his jewelry was valued at $151,688.

The Persian potentate was a Muslim and he carefully provided that his four children should be reared in that faith. The New York bank and the queen mother of the shah's harem are attending to their religious instruction now.

VETERANS' BRIGADE EN ROUTE THROUGH OHIO

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 27.—A veterans' brigade from the west moved speedily across southern Ohio today on its way to Washington to plead for payment of soldiers' benefit certificates.

About 300 ex-soldiers traveled in Ohio state highway department trucks to Zanesville, their night's camping place. Tomorrow they will be taken to the West Virginia line.

The veterans' spirits rose with the transportation provided them, and they felt no fatigue when they stopped at noon at Montgomery, east of here, for a repast of sandwiches furnished by Ohio National Guard officers who were escorting them.

Fifty-two trucks were provided on Governor George White's orders as a patriotic gesture to the former doughboys. The Ohio trucks picked up the acclade at Aurora, Ind.

At the state line, veterans' committees from Cincinnati met them with tobacco.

Jap Scoffs at Idea Of War With Soviet

GENEVA, May 27.—(UPI)—The danger of war between Japan and Russia is "nothing but a nightmare created by the exaggerated minds of passimists," Japanese Ambassador to London Tsuneo Matsudaira, said in an interview here with Dr. M. J. Larson, an authority on Russian affairs.

In my opinion there is no imminent danger of war between the two countries," he said.

"So far as Japan is concerned there is no intention of making trouble for Russia unless Russia takes the offensive. It is impossible to think that the common sense viewpoint that Japan would attempt to invade Russia, thus adding another real trouble to Manchurian affairs."

ATLANTA TO LOSE MARINE ACTIVITY

Recruiting Station Will Be Moved to Macon, Effective July 1.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Officials of the United States marine corps today announced that, effective July 1, the corps recruiting headquarters for Georgia will be transferred from Atlanta to Macon. Orders this end already have been issued.

Explaining the action taken, officials said the transfer was being ordered in the interest of economy and to give the recruiting headquarters a more central location.

Representative Robert Ramspeck, of the Atlanta congressional district, after being informed of the transfer, announced that he would file a vigorous protest with the navy department, which has jurisdiction over marine corps activities.

Previously the department had announced that the naval recruiting station in Atlanta would be transferred to Macon on July 1. In protesting against the action at the time, Representative Ramspeck charged that Representative Carl Vinson, of Macon, had used his influence as chairman of the Merchant marine naval affairs committee to bring about the transfer for political effect. By virtue of the new redistricting bill passed by the last state legislature Representative Vinson will have to run for election in the new sixth district, which embraces Macon.

Asked about the transfer of the marine corps recruiting station today, Mr. Vinson said he knew nothing about it.

Representative Ramspeck plans to confer with department officials over the matter tomorrow. He said he would seek to have both orders countermanded and the two recruiting stations retained in Atlanta.

Cloudy Skies Today To Produce No Rain

With 80-degree weather apparently with us until next fall, skies over the city today are slated to be overcast but will produce no rain, according to C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist. The official forecast for Saturday reads:

"Partly cloudy, but no rain, and warm temperatures."

The temperature Friday ranged between 63 and 82 degrees and the range will be virtually the same today, according to the forecast. Cloudy skies late in the afternoon Friday threatened a downpour of rain. Thursday night totaled one-half inch, which caused damage to trees and power lines in Decatur and lightning caused one fire and injured a woman in Atlanta.

The local United States weather bureau Friday said that indications were for fair Sunday but that conditions may change today.

ARKANSAS TOWN HIT BY HIGH WIND STORM

OZARK, Ark., May 27.—(AP)—A high wind during an electrical storm swept through Ozark last night, blowing the Church of the Nazarene, a wooden frame building, foundations, demolishing a filling station, uprooting trees, and hurling heavy objects through a number of plate glass windows in the business district. MRS. JOHN G. PRATT NAMED PRESIDENT OF JUNIOR LEAGUE

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—(AP)—Mrs. John G. Pratt, of New Orleans, was elected president of the Association of Junior Leagues of America at the closing of the twelfth annual convention today.

In bringing the four-day convention to an end, the 250 delegates adopted only one resolution, which called upon league members to become aware of their responsibilities as citizens.

Most of the day was taken up in filling vacancies in administrative offices. Mrs. H. H. Armstrong, of Hartford, Conn., was re-elected treasurer. Mrs. B. B. Gates of Dayton, Ohio, and Miss Abigail Von Schlegell of Pasadena, Calif., will remain for another year as vice-president and secretary respectively.

In filling the posts of four of the seven regional directors, the association elected Miss Elizabeth Taylor, of Little Rock, Ark., to succeed Mrs. Pratt in Region 4; Mrs. C. L. Meyer, of Omaha, was re-elected in Region 5; Mrs. E. H. Patterson, president of the Houston (Texas) league, succeeded Mrs. T. K. Alexander, of Denver, as director of Region 6, and Miss Averick Allen, of Pasadena, was re-elected for Region 7.

Charles Naegle, noted pianist, and painter of Marietta and Atlanta, will broadcast in the civic concert series program over an NBC network at 6:15 o'clock tonight. The program will be broadcast locally by WSB. Mr. Naegle has gained a reputation as one of the leading concert artists in the country since his debut on radio.

COAL MINE CRISIS THREATENS BRITAIN

LONDON, May 27.—(UPI)—A struggle between coal miners and owners threatened today to plunge Great Britain into another coal industry crisis, more dreaded than any other industrial deadlock, inasmuch as it would cost $50,000 workers.

Reviving memories of the paralyzing strike of 1926, 200,000 unemployed miners and working hours was brought into the house of commons when Minister of Mines Isaac Foote announced that all possibilities of an agreement between the miners and owners "is now finally exhausted."

Foote announced that the government had decided to take over the mines Friday a bill to deal with the situation. The bill, which the cabinet hopes to rush through by June 2, is understood to propose indefinite continuation of the 7 1/2-hour working day, at least until the proposed Geneva convention is ratified.

LEAGUE IS CHALLENGED TO PUBLISH PAY ROLLS

A challenge to publish both the city and county pay rolls was hurled at Robert C. Mizell, president of the Tax Payers' league, Friday by County Commissioners Walter B. Stewart, who said the public "had a right to know the facts to justify your position." Stewart's letter was in reply to a communication from Mizell in connection with the league's comparison of the total city and county pay rolls.

"In your statement this morning you threatened to publish the county pay roll, and also said that you could be specific if necessary," Stewart wrote. "I am not able to do both. But, at the same time, in order that the public may judge for themselves and not have the figures jangled, you should publish the city pay rolls, and I demand that you publish both, from the lowest to the highest salaried employee, name by name.

schools included, negroes to be designated as such, as well as class of service rendered."

BROMLEY IS PLANNING NEW PACIFIC FLIGHT

CAMDEN, N. J., May 27.—(UPI)—Harold Bromley, who left Dallas early today to make a non-stop flight to New York, landed at the central airport tonight.

Bromley flew a high-wing monoplane powered by a Diesel type motor. He said he met stormy weather all the way, but made it through without landing. He planned to continue to New York tomorrow and to attempt a non-stop flight from New York to Los Angeles as soon as possible.

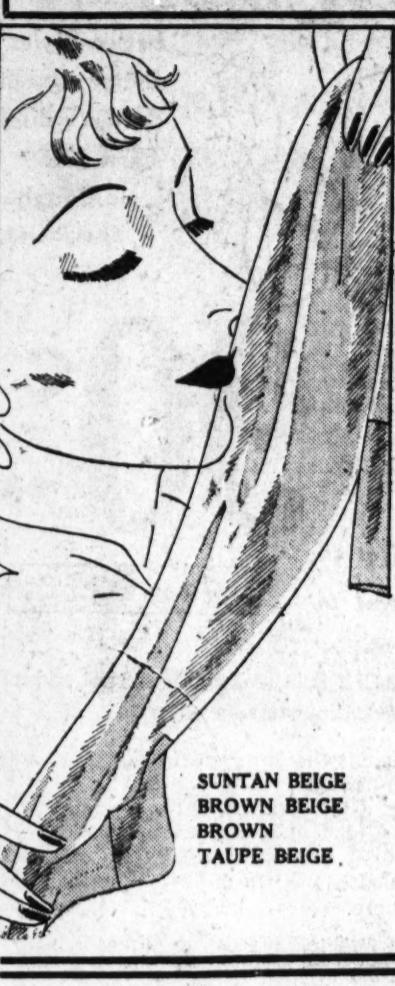

Bromley has said he would attempt to fly non-stop from Seattle to Tokyo in his Diesel type motorized plane and earn a larger money prize. He had been in Dallas outfitting his plane.

MARYLAND UNIVERSITY PROMOTES H. C. BYRD

ATLANTA, GA., MAY 28, 1932.

UNSOND IN PRINCIPLE.

The opposition of Congressman
Brand to the Steagall bank deposit guarantee bill, because it proposes to penalize sound banks to protect those not efficiently conducted, is based on logic and wise reasoning.

Although the bill was passed by the house Friday it is improbable in view of the attack on it by the Georgia congressman and the known attitude of senate leaders, that it will receive favorable action in that body.

Congressman Brand, a veteran member of the committee of banking and currency, points out that
"the most important provision of the bill requires strong banks to protect the weak ones, good banks to protect the bad, and solvent banks to protect the insolvent." He feels that it "furnishes no protection whatsoever to small banks with less than $25,000 capital, and it gives only conditional protection to all non-member banks with capital of over $25,000."

Any law requiring a sound and safe institution, whether it be a bank, an industry or a commercial concern, to be burdened for the protection of an institution weak
because of lack of proper backing or inefficient management, would be unjust and inexcusable.

Congressman Brand brings out in his address the fact that if the Steagall bill had been in effect since 1926 a group of 7,246 banks of the United States would have had to bear the loss to depositors in all insolvent banks since that year, with the probability that at least half of them would have had to go out of business.

He further points out that although there was not a single bank
failure during 1931 in Vermont, Maine, Rhode Island and Connecticut,
the total of 160 national banks would, under the Steagall bill, have
"with such a record for safety been compelled to pay an amount equal to $1,334,913 for the privilege of taking care of little banks in the South, west and east, wherever they fall."

Instead of putting this totally unnecessary burden on banks in which the depositor's dollar is safe, there should be established a system of supervision of the smaller institutions which would insure that they would be properly and safely conducted.

That such a system can be devised is amply proved by the experience of England and Canada,
which, notwithstanding the worldwide depression, have not had a single bank failure in more than seven years.

A step in that direction was complicated by the banking bill introduced by Congressman Brand several years ago which, had it been enacted into law, would unquestion-ably have reduced the bank failures in this country during the past two years to a fourth of what they have been.

Some method of protecting the depositors of the country from the staggering losses they have sustained should not be based on the unsound and unwise principle of placing an unnecessary and unjustified burden on institutions which are serving the public wisely and well.

In the long run this burden would be passed on to the depositors, who would then be paying a tax to insure the safety of other depositors who had their money in banks being unsoundly conducted.

Any such situation as that would be unjust and indefensible and Congressman Brand is to be commended for his prompt and vigorous stand against it.

MERITED PROMOTIONS.

The appointments by the governor of Associate Justice Bell, of the appellate court, to the supreme court bench and of Circuit Judge Sutton to fill the vacancy on the appeals court are in the nature of well-merited promotions which will be generally approved.

Justice Bell, while still a comparatively young man, has proven his fitness to render the exacting duties of the high position to which he has been named. As a practicing attorney, solicitor-general and later judge of the Albany circuit and as a member of the court of appeals,
he has shown a profound knowledge of the law and a judicial disposition marked by the unusual combination of sound conservatism and breadth of vision.

Judge Sutton has also made a splendid public record, having been county attorney of Habersham county, three times mayor of Clarkesville and at the time of his appointment was serving his second term
as superior court judge.

Judge Sutton is also in the prime of life and has exhibited soundness of judgment and virility in his performance of his duties, both as a prosecuting attorney and a judge.

The high caliber of the jurists composing the supreme court and the court of appeals will be maintained with the addition of Justices
Bell and Sutton.

Anyway, the depression has about solved the old capital vs. labor troubles—there's very little of either left.

MARINES KNOW NO ARMISTICE.

The senate in its consideration of the naval appropriations bill, in which provision is made for a reduction in the officer personnel of the marine corps, should bear in mind that the marines are the one branch of the defensive forces of the country which knows no armistice.

Whether the country is at peace or at war they are always busy. In times of war they are generally the first to come in actual contact with the enemy, while their peace-time duties—the protection of the lives and property of American citizens wherever they may live—keep them constantly engaged in the four corners of the world.

They are now in Nicaragua,
Porto Rico, Hawaii, the Philippines and in other far-flung spots. Upon them fell the first brunt of protecting American interests during the recent Sino-Japanese clash on the outskirts of Shanghai.

They are the only branch of the military forces of a nation which under international agreement can land on foreign soil without an act of war being committed, and their duties are such as to require the highest efficiency in their officer personnel.

The bill now before the senate specifies that no officer shall be commissioned in the corps prior to June 1, 1933, thus eliminating the midshipmen who will graduate this year and the service promotions from the ranks which are made each year.

Especially with regard to the midshipmen does this provision seem to be unreasonable. If they are not assigned to the marines, where they are badly needed, they will have to be sent into the navy, which is already over-officered. Not a dollar will be saved.

This item of the naval appropriations bill should be eliminated. The efficiency of the marines should be the first consideration in matters affecting the armed forces of the country.

We've quit trying to decide who won the World War, and are now puzzling over what the winner won.

The depression hasn't reached heaven, declares an evangelist. Now tell us how far it has gone in the other direction.

"What is the most common cause of amnesia?" Offhand, we'd say borrowing money.

An efficiency expert is anyone who can pack a suit case and not have to open it more than twice to put in forgotten items.

There are two ways of asking the boss for a raise, it is stated in a magazine article. Yes, and both of them wrong in a time like this.

Dumb Dora thinks Scotland Yard
is 32 inches.

Another important use of hen
eggs is the supplying of something with which to compare the size of halistones.

A correspondent asks an editor
what is the most valuable skin. Well, frogskins come fairly high these days.

Suggestion to the enforcement officers: Put a bunch of those crooks
in the cooler under blanket indi-ments.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW
BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Rest a While!

A philosopher once said: "The doors of your soul are open on others and theirs on yours."

What are the doors of the soul, really? Is it correct to speak of doors in connection with the soul, which moves above all things tangible, above time and space? It is probably not correct, but we humans like to illustrate our thoughts with pictures derived from our environment. It would be, in fact, impossible to do otherwise.

How can we form a concrete idea of something that is something beyond us, something infinite?

But there it stands: "the doors of your soul are open." The question is, how far is that door open, just ajar, slightly, or wide open, generally to all good influences.

How many people simply dare not open the doors of their soul. They are afraid of new ideas, afraid of the opinions of others. Close the door quickly, they seem to say. Criminal theories are wandering around and the world. Do not let them in. They may contaminate us. And that would be terrible. We are so good, as we are. We are so happy, as we are.
No change, no discussion even about change.

Bad intentions are put to men and women who would, by opening the doors, let heaven's sunshine in, make a better world of this. And from anger it goes to hatred.

Open the doors, wide, wider, even wider, take them off their hinges, let them fall, let them be splashed of sunlight. Let the light come streaming in in volumes, in torrents and waves.

"Be ye lifted, O eternal doors, so that the King of Glory may come in.
Who is this King of Glory? The Lord, He is the King of Glory!"

of an archaeological expedition in Palestine. Sir Flinders Petrie, John Garstang or some other explorer, is credited with having uncovered some new city, which purports to prove that Jesus was authentic and that Jericho did not burn.

The most useful archaeologist is not that at last it has been discovered how Jericho fell. No matter how frequently this item is cabled, it always gets attention. No one can observe these repetitions, unimportant as they are, without becoming interested in them.

Sodom and Gomorrah really did exist, you read one day. Well, what of it? You can rest that story in entirety in Genesis. Most of us can live in the slab of rock. The Israelites did perish in the desert. They did cross the Red sea.

So they come and tell us if it is
so-and-so that we were buried, this thing when we were buried, a grasshopper, and believed them.
What's the use of bothering us with rehashed stories that have lost might in the rehashing?

Letters From a Bald-Headed Dad to a Flapper Daughter

BY ROBERT QUILLEN

My dear Louise:

Yesterday, when your mother teased you about wearing a garment in need of repair, you answered with an air as old as the history of clothing: "It doesn't show."

It seems a harmless statement, and certainly reveals a proper pride and a wholesome respect for the opinion of mankind; but it also reveals a fault much worse than the one that is hidden.

If you were required to make a choice,
which would you prefer: Clean and beautiful undergarments with a frock of the cheapest gingham, or a beautiful and costly outer garment with soiled and ragged things beneath?

The difference is the difference between reputation and character.

All of us, being eager to win the world's approval makeshift to look presentable on outside; but there are many of both sexes and all ages, lacking the excuse of poverty, who find it easy to endure a soiled garment or one worn to shreds, or even an unwashed hide, so long as it doesn't show.

That is a confession. It confesses want of character—want of true pride. It says in effect: "I'm not above indecent and shameful things in secret, provided I can make a show of virtue and culture to fool the public."

It is the creed of pretenders—those who buy books as furniture develop imaginary family trees, boast of acquaintanceship with celebrities they haven't met or affect a culture and a knowledge far beyond their poor limits.

That part is merely amusing perhaps, but the thing goes deeper.
The habit of being indifferent to faults that are hidden confuses values, and soon the victim of the habit comes to regard the hiding of faults as a greater virtue than correcting them. He no longer tries to be, he is content to seem.

The punishment for fooling the world is that eventually you fool yourself as well, and then your case is hopeless.

"To thine own self be true" is the grander way of saying: "Don't kid yourself." And the way to play safe is to mend the hidden tears for the sake of secret pride and dignity, more neatly than you mend DAD.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK,

HOLLYWOOD. Cal., May 27.—Because Biblical subjects have always been the top moneymakers in the religious field, Cecil De Mille's next release will be titled "Sign of the Cross"
and will be a modern theme—gangster story, so to speak—but back in
A. D. 650.

White, when script clerk, and the best, has written the "correct" gesture—when the silver coffee service was served into the drawing room. Von Stenberg said that was not done. Alice White, always a firebrand, launched into a heated counter-attack. The result was a hysterical telephone call to the neighbor hostess whose party she had once crashed. A little blonde who later became a star.

That being the case a few names of Biblical figures are being used in the picture, which is to be called "Martyrs of the Movies," scheduled to be shown to the public next week.

Ernest Lubitsch's next picture will be called "Honest Finders" and will be based on a famous European play by Heribert Mann. Want of money prevents Lubitsch from Warner's studios, so he is going to shoot the picture in Germany.

So they come and tell us if it is
so-and-so that we were buried, this

Reviewing the Shows

"The Misleading Lady" On Paramount Screen

The Misleading Lady, with Claudette Colbert, Edmund Lowe and other popular players in the cast, is the new feature opening at the Paramount theater this week. It is said to be one of the cleverest comedy productions of recent months. Newsreel and short subjects complete the screen program.

Charlie Fuhrer and his Columbia Recording orchestra hold star spot on the new stage bill. This orchestra with 12 choice musicians and a number of special performers, came direct to its present tour from the Coconut Grove at Chicago, where it won a citywide reputation as the finest of "hot" dance orchestras.

Conductor Kornspan has another of his popular overtures for the Paramount concert orchestra.

"Trial of Vivienne Ware" New Feature at Fox

A tense courtroom melodrama, relieved by the satiric comedy of the radio broadcast of the same trial, provides the plot for "The Trial of Vivienne Ware," new screen vehicle starring Joan Bennett, which opens its local run at the Fox theater today. With the handsome Donald Robinson's entire new type of role in his latest picture, which shows today at the Georgia, The picture is called "The Hatchet Man," and the star enacts the role of one of those sinister Chinamen who make a profession of murder, without the slightest compunction or fear of punishment or responsibility for the crimes they commit.

There are also excellent short subjects and an up-to-the-minute newsreel on the program.

"The Lost Squadron" Is Rialto Offering

"The Lost Squadron," pictures some of the ruthless methods possible to some movie directors when they seek startling and sensational stunt shots, is the new attraction today at the Rialto. Headed by a notable cast are Robert Don, Mary Astor and Eric von Stroheim.

The always clever short subjects and newsreel added attractions to be seen at this theater will also be on the program.

AKRON TO BEGIN TRIP TO EAST EARLY IN JUNE

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 27.—(AP)—Lieutenant Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, commander of the naval dirigible Akron, in a message to the naval air station today indicated that the Akron would be ready to start on its homeward journey from the Pacific coast June 3 or 4.

Navy officers here said the route of the return flight would be determined by weather conditions.

Block testified that he never discussed with Walker the matter of the mayor's being responsible for a portion of any possible loss in the joint account. He said it was never his intention to allow the mayor to lose any money.

"The mayor said:

"Why not have Billy go with us for a drive?"

Block and the boy were waiting for the mayor on Fifth Avenue, when Billy asked him what salary the mayor received.

I told him it was $25,000," Block said. "And he asked:

"Does the city give him a home?"

"I said no, and he asked:

"Does the city give him an automobile?"

"I said yes, but not to Mrs. Walker," then asked:

"Can I live on it if he gets it?"

"I said yes, he probably can, but it may be difficult."

The idea of opening the joint account occurred to him, Block testified, but before opening the account, he discussed it with Walker, saying:

"Jimmy, I'm going to open a joint account for us and see if I can make some money for you."

He said Walker replied:

"Aw, you ought not to do that, Paul."

Block testified that he never discussed with Walker the matter of the mayor's being responsible for a portion of any possible loss in the joint account. He said it was never his intention to allow the mayor to lose any money.

"The mayor and I were very intimate friends for a great many years," he said. "He was my friend, Jimmy Walker, and not the mayor of New York to me."

Sobey asked if thought Block was making a very fine distinction by refusing to say the money from the joint account was a donation to the mayor.

"At any rate," Seabury said, "as far as the mayor was concerned, it was something for nothing, wasn't it?"

"Yes, certainly," Block replied.

The publisher said the payments to the mayor had on occasions been in excess of the account's profits. He said did not know how much payment he had sent amount to.

Seabury asked Block how payments from the account were made to Walker. Block replied:

"Well we had luncheons, and there was some remark, probably by me, that 'did you see what happened in the market yesterday?' Meaning that was the way up. The mayor would say—'no' each time, but this has happened."

"Gee, that's great. I wonder if I could get some more."

"And I would always say:

"Certainly. How much do you want?"

Block said the mayor never knew what the profits of the account were when he made his requests. Except for a period after the account was first opened, he said, there always were profits.

He said he had never received anything from Mayor Walker in return for profits from the account.

"There was nothing he could have given me," he said, "and nothing I would have accepted save his friend."

Scientist Is Killed In Fall From Cliff

PASADENA, Cal., May 27.—(AP)—Dr. Leonard Thompson Trolard, noted scientist, of Harvard University and famed in the scientific world as the co-inventor of coloring process for motion pictures, was killed today in fall from 370-foot peak of Mount Wilson, 6,000-foot peak.

Dr. Trolard, 42, ascended the mountain several days ago with a friend, D. D. Eaton, in search of recreation. He was in southern California on a long vacation in an attempt to regain his health.

A report to sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred near the Mount Wilson observatory. A detail of officers was sent up the mountain from a nearby station to recover the body.

It was believed Mrs. Trolard, who accompanied her husband west, had gone to the mountain with him although officers were unable to learn the address of the home in Hollywood where she was believed to be residing.

Major John A. Moulton, examining officer, pronounced the "Flying Colored" fit in every particular.

MACON, Ga., May 27.—(AP)—James Howard, 8 years old, was brought to the Macon hospital from Cebrian late tonight after a cow gored him in the right side. The boy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Howard, was playing in the pasture of his father's farm, Cebrian, when he was now attacked him, it was stated. His condition was described as fair and physicians were considering an operation to save his life.

either directly or indirectly, any interest of the City or state.

Herrick testified that he bought for Walker, and with Walker's money, 300 shares of the stock, which was issued in the park commissioner's name and part of which, according to testimony, the present head was used by J. Allen Smith, representative of the Equitable Coach Company, to obtain a $23,000 loan.

Transactions Denied.

(While on the stand, Walker was questioned at length about the granting of a bus franchise by the city to the Equitable and denied implications that any personal financial transactions had influenced his vote on the matter.)

After Herrick had told how the $30,000 for the purchase of the stock had been sent to him from the mayor, either directly or from his secretary, Seabury asked:

"And there was no misunderstanding on your part, was there, that this $30,000 was to be used to purchase the 300 shares of Interstate stock that the mayor asked you to purchase in an earlier conversation?"

"Not the slightest," Herrick replied.

Herrick added he asked the mayor some time later if he still had the stock and Walker replied:

"No, I put it up for collateral on a loan and it's all gone."

Subsequent to the following indiscretions on certificates for the 300 shares, which Herrick said he delivered to the mayor's secretary with the understanding that they were going to the mayor: Two 100-share certificates.

Allan A. Smith, Equitable agent, who made the purchase of a $10,000 letter of credit Walker used on a European trip.

One 50-share certificate—Kincaid, Florentino & Co. (Herrick said federal agents told him State Senator John A. Tastings, friend of Walker, who was interested in the Equitable, had turned the certificate up as collateral for a loan.)

One 25-share certificate—Mrs. Mary A. Smith, of Syracuse, wife of Allan Smith.

One 25-share certificate—Frank R. Fagell, Equitable backer.

No down payment necessary! Pick out your Majestic refrigerator from our floor and we deliver it to your home at once.

Attached to your refrigerator will be an attractive electric clock-meter. You put a quarter into the meter and this runs your refrigerator for 24 hours, besides giving you the correct time electrically!

No extra charge for meter! Same price on the refrigerator whether you buy it on this or some other extended payment plan.

Every month we call by your home and collect the quarters from the meter. When enough have been collected to cover the price of the refrigerator, we remove the meter and the refrigerator is yours for keeps!

People used to think you had to pay income tax before you could afford an electric refrigerator . . . but that was before Rich's introduced the meter payment plan! Now all you do is drop a quarter a day (the same quarter you used to hand the ice man) into the meter-clock, and presto! . . . perfect refrigeration! No more payments of any kind. Some morning you wake up to find the Majestic yours! You keep the refrigerator. The meter-clock goes back to Rich's. And everybody's happy!

An innovation in music club activity was the concert festival which took place Monday at the Studio Arts building in Atlanta, sponsored by the Georgia Federation of Music. Misses Mary and Evelyn Jackson, well-known Atlanta teacher and musician, first vice president of the federation, had charge of the plans. The objective of the festival was to inspire young talent throughout the state to higher professional attainments by affording them an opportunity to play a concerto with an orchestra, a chance seldom given to southern pianists, and especially young pianists. At this first festival only one concerto was played, the Mendelssohn G minor, but next year there will be four from the same composer, set aside for the likes of Mozart, D major; Mozart, E flat major; Saint-Saens, G minor, and Mendelssohn, G minor.

Four young Georgia pianists did creditable performances Monday of the work, each playing in the entire concert. Burgoo King Favored in Withers Mile Today; Seven To Run; New Southern League Ball Given Test as Crackers Lose, 4-0

FAVORITE ROLE IS HELD TODAY BY BURGOO KING

Pompeius and Osculator Given Best Chance To Beat Bradley Star.

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—E. R. Bradley's Burgoo King, winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, today was named the odds-on favorite in a field of seven for the Withers mile at Belmont Park tomorrow.

The best hams come from Tennessee, and it seems that even a ham ball player can go up there and become something delicious. Because we note that of the four Tennessee cities in the Southern baseball association, three are in the first division. Knoxville is showing some signs of moving up and may in time reach the lofty heights. Tennessee, however, has always been a bit worried whether to include Knoxville because it is a republican stronghold. There are some who insist that Knoxville is really a part of Vermont that slipped down in the mountain valley during the flood.

Boatman, a son of the mighty Man o' War, has been made the second choice for tomorrow's event. He is quoted at 2 to 1 with the Kentuckian King the odds-on choice at 4 to 5.

If the son of Bubbling Over is beaten, however, many believe it will be either by Pompeius or Osculator. Both are from W. R. Coe's stable and have plenty of early speed.

The former winners of Mrs. John D. Hertz's Pair By Pair and Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sunnells complete the field. The Kilmer colt, making his first start of the year, is being conditioned by Tommy Woodcock, a famous Australian horseman.

Although listed only as a $3,000 added event, the race will be worth in the neighborhood of $25,000 to the winner. If victorious, the King's total earnings for this season will be close to $100,000.

Burgoo King worked his last mile in 1:39 2/5 and before that was sharpened up with three-eighths in 34 seconds.

Probable Odds For Race Today.

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—E. R. Bradley's Burgoo King will be made the 4-to-5 favorite to win the Withers mile at Belmont Park tomorrow. The entries, owners, jockeys and probable odds follow:

Burgoo King, E. R. Bradley, Eugene

Pompeius, W. R. Coe, Sonny Workman, 6 to 5.

Larrance, Asanil stable, George Fields, 10 to 7.

Boatman, Walter M. Jeffords, Alfred

Robertson, 2 to 1.

Sun Meus, W. R. Kilmer, Tony Pasqua, 2 to 1.

Pair by Pair, Mrs. John Hertz, Earl

Steffen, 15 to 1.

FINALS TODAY IN TRANS-MISS.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 27.—(AP)—The women's trans-Mississippi state champion will be decided tomorrow in a 36-hole final battle between the present state champion and a former state champion of Oklahoma.

Spectacular victories today gave Mrs. Walter Beyer, of Tulsa, Oklahoma woman's champion, and Mrs. Tom Wallace, of St. Louis, the two leaders of the Oklahoma title, their chance at the title now held by Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, who is in England as a member of the United States women's golf team.

Mrs. Beyer went four down to Miss Hilda Urbantke, Austin, Texas, in the final holes of their semi-final match and then halved gamely to square the match on the 18th and win it on the 19th.

Mrs. Wallace was forced to go the full route to defeat Miss Anne Webster, Leavenworth, Kansas state champion, one up.

Kaye Don Quits Record Attempts

GARDONE, Italy, May 27.—(AP)—Kaye Don, British speedboat driver, today decided to abandon his record on Lake Garda with his Miss England III.

The British driver, who once held the world mark before it was raised to 111.72 by Gar Wood, of Detroit, was bitterly disappointed over his slow record on yesterday. It averaged 91.57 miles an hour in two-way trials over a measured mile.

I wish less of my life and more about speed, which is what I want in a boat," Don said. "After all risk is my stock in trade."

Kaye Don said he was satisfied with his engine and would not change them. He said he certainly would have the boat ready to meet Wood in the Harmsworth trophy race at Detroit next fall.

Londos will stay away and win his match on the coast. Unless, of course, my guess is wrong. Which would not exactly be a novelty.

Tennessee Air Seems To Do Things to Baseball Players.

Can it be that there is something in the Tennessee air which makes ball players become more invigorated, more lively (like the ball), more versatile, happier and contented?

The best hams come from Tennessee, and it seems that even a ham ball player can go up there and become something delicious. Because we note that of the four Tennessee cities in the Southern baseball association, three are in the first division. Knoxville is showing some signs of moving up and may in time reach the lofty heights. Tennessee, however, has always been a bit worried whether to include Knoxville because it is a republican stronghold. There are some who insist that Knoxville is really a part of Vermont that slipped down in the mountain valley during the flood.

At any rate, Nashville, Memphis and Chattanooga are raising a lot of Cain, as they say up there. And Birmingham is showing some signs of slipping down the ladder.

Bert Niehoff, who moved from Atlanta to Chattanooga, is looking younger every day. He appears to be a college cheer leader at first glance. Gone are the wrinkles and the frowns of worry.

Something should be done about the Tennessee situation once.

THE STRANGLER AND SHIKAT.

Wrestling fans are somewhat steamed up over the announcement that Dick Shikat, one-time German sailor, is to meet Ed (Strangler) Lewis on the Milk Fund card in New York next month.

Ever since the boxers became so ritzy as to their prices the wrestlers have been supplying the amusement, and much better amusement it is than a lot of the boxing matches. There are few uninteresting wrestling matches in this new era with the boys always willing to mix and be mixed.

There was some printed frowning in the direction of Jim Londos, the champion, because of his refusal to meet Dick Shikat again. Londos won the title from him about two years ago and since that time has steadfastly refused to look in Shikat's direction again. There were some who said that Jim Londos turned his head whenever he saw a lithograph of Dick Shikat.

At any rate, the big Kentuckian is to meet the German with the babies of New York as the beneficiaries. They do say that the babies get some money for milk when the wrestlers are on the card. When the boxers were featured there was always some doubt as to what the babies would get.

My guess about it is that Lewis will beat Shikat. And that Lewis and Londos will meet on the coast or at St. Louis and that Londos will win that match. There really are no other wrestlers who can give the trio of Lewis, Londos and Shikat much trouble unless it be McMillin and Steele. And they have tried and failed to date.

There is said to be general dissatisfaction because no one has been able to unseat Londos. There are some who feel that it is time a German or a Swede held the title. Shikat had it once. And will not likely get it back. He is a great wrestler up to certain point. And he can hardly pass Ed Lewis.

Lewis lacks some of the speed and the slapping which other wrestlers put on. You may put it down that when two wrestlers resort to continual slapping, kicking and hitting they are doing it to cover up the fact they do not know a great deal about wrestling.

TREMENDOUS POWER.

Lewis' weight and his tremendous arm power will wear down the Shikat offense. Lewis can lean around on a wrestler and have said wrestler weakened considerably after 40 or 50 minutes.

When Lewis beat Joe Stecher so badly some years ago it was a simple squeeze with the arms, similar to Steinborn's bear hug hold, which wrecked Stecher more than did the headlocks and arm holds.

Lewis told me about the wrecking shortly after it happened. "I was milling around with him," said Lewis, "and finally got my head right down on his breast bone. I had my arms around him. I pulled in with my arms as hard as I could and pushed with my head at the same time."

"Joe sort of moaned down in his throat and I could hear the bones give away inside him. I knew then that he would be no more good. And he wasn't."

Lewis works at his opponents in a manner which the spectator seldom sees. His arms, when about the opponent's shoulders or body, are pulling away with tremendous power.

Shikat will meet in Lewis the cleverest defensive man the game has ever known. He can wrestle. He doesn't have to butt, slap, kick or hit to make a show. He can wrestle. And after about 45 minutes or an hour Dick Shikat will be very tired. And Lewis will pin him.

Londos will stay away and win his match on the coast. Unless, of course, my guess is wrong. Which would not exactly be a novelty.

THAT NEW BASEBALL DEBUTANT.

President John D. Martin, of the Southern association, announces that the new "dead" ball (which isn't so dead) will be marked with the president's name stamped in red to differentiate it from the one now stamped with black.

The new baseball was to have a general coming out day, or debut, according to Mr. Martin. Or rather it was to have had one. The Crackers and Lookouts used the new ball yesterday. This was to enable the umpires to prevent managers from juggling the balls; that is, giving the opponents dead balls to hit and swatting live ones themselves. The president seems to be sure that the umpires know red from black, which isn't so sure in other quarters.

Mr. Martin, in further statements about the new ball, declared he gave Mr. Charley Carr, the manufacturer, no instructions as to how much of the rabbit was to be taken from the ball now in use. It is to be hoped that Mr. Carr knows his dead ball well.

ORCUTT LEADS IN QUALIFYING WITH FINE 73

First Half of Round Is Completed; Rain Drenches Course.

SAUNTON, England, May 27.—(AP)—Maureen Orcutt shot a brilliant 73 this morning to lead the field by two strokes through the first half of the qualifying round of the British women's golf championship.

She went out in the early sunshine to tame completely the sandy wastes and midget greens of the Saunton course, stroking the 18 holes only 2 pars.

Wind came up then, and rain swept the bleak stretch, sending the scores of the remainder of the American contingent, as well as the British entrants, soaring.

There seemed little danger, however, that any members of the United States would defend a British team at Wentworth several days ago would fail to pass the final 18-hole qualifying test. Apparently a pair of 90's will qualify.

The former winner, Thelma De Lille, came home with the wife of the famous French tennis player, Rene Lacoste, also took advantage of the early calm to shoot a 75 for second honors. Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, took a 77, while Mrs. Leona Cheney, of Los Angeles, tied with Mrs. J. B. Watson, of England, at 78.

Gianna Collett Vare, former United States women's champion, and Helen Hicks, present titleholder, failed to break 80. Mrs. Vare shooting just that with the aid of a fine 38 on the outgoing 9, while Miss Hicks, playing in the only outfit in the British weather, turned in a harassed 88.

There were only 10 scores under 80 in the big field.

Enid Wilson, British champion, turned a card of 79, a stroke behind Mrs. Watson. Molly Gourlay took 83; Elsie Corlett 81, and Diana Fishwick an 87.

Four American women, none of them members of the official invading team, seemed destined for elimination tomorrow.

Rosamond Sherwood, of New York, 91; Dorothy Clegg, of Boston, 96; Ruth Batchelder, of Saunton, 98, and Virginia Holzberger, of Baltimore, 102, needed exceptional scores tomorrow to qualify.

Mrs. Harley Higbie, of Detroit, a member of the American team, seemed safe enough with 84. Marion Hollins, team captain, needed only to duplicate her 89 to remain in the competition along with Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, who took 88 strokes

The Americans will play the strong English team of Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall and Betty Nutall in the finals Sunday.

Returning to the courts after a short rest Mrs. Moody advanced to the finals of one division of play and the semi-finals of another in the French tennis championships today.

Paired with Elizabeth Ryan, American woman living in London, Mrs. Moody, helped eliminate Senorita Ella Alvarez of Spain, and Joseane Sigart of Belgium, in the semi-finals of doubles, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Pirates Continue Pennant Climb, Defeating Cardinals, 8 to 4

Haines, French Are Shelled By Heavy Bats

Both, However, Keep Hits Well Scattered; Grace, Barber Hit Homers.

PITTSBURGH, May 27.—(AP)—The Pirates continued their climb of the National league ladder today, capturing four wins with a 8-to-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Larry French and Jess Haines were hit hard, but the Pittsburgh slabman kept the enemy blows scattered. Grace, and Barber hit homers.

It was French's fourth win over the Cards, the Pirates' fourth straight victory.

Miss Maddox To Enter Tourney

Georgia women's golf champion has changed her mind and decided to try again for the southern championship she won in 1929.

Mrs. Margaret Maddox, of Atlanta, who Thursday said she would be unable to play in this year's Dixie tourney, has now decided to do so. Hot Springs Monday, made a fast right-about turn yesterday and set out by auto with Mrs. O. B. Keeler for the tournament site.

She undoubtedly will be the southeast's favorite in the tourney. But perhaps this season has been much better than three years ago when she beat Mrs. David Gant, of Memphis, in the finals at New Orleans.

Mrs. Ashby Taylor, of Atlanta, also will enter.

Mrs. Keeler said today the Georgia delegation would ask the association to award the 1933 tournament to the Radium Springs course at Albany, Ga.

Georgia-Clemson Game Moved Up

CLEMSON COLLEGE, S. C., May 27.—(AP)—Jess Neely, Clemson football coach, announced today that the football game that had been Georgia's second game of the day, Saturday, will be played at Clemson Friday, November 11, Armistice Day, instead of the following day.

The first and second-round matches in the president's trophy tournament on the Capital City Country Club course will be played during the week-end.

Ansy Lee Park golfers will complete remaining first-round matches in the annual president's trophy tourney, while members of the Druid Hills Club will compete in the second round matches in the president's cup event.

Play in the directors' cup tourney on the Ingleside course will extend through the first and second rounds during the week-end.

SMITHIES BEAT COLUMBUS, 15-2

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 27.—McLaughlin silenced the heavy artillery of Industrial here Friday afternoon and his mates buried three Jacket pitchers. Tech High School, of Atlanta, a 15-to-2 victor in the first game of a series for the state high school championship.

The heavy-hitting Smithies drove two Industrial hurlers from the mound as they turned in 10 runs and 10 hits in four and one-third innings, and when the Jackets finally found a hurler to stop their foes their defense cracked up.

McLaughlin, diminutive Smithie right-hander, pitched beautiful ball for the Atlantans. The Jackets, defeated only once this season, and that in the two previous meetings, were unable to find the range of his talents. He gave up only four hits, but passed five men, walked, featuring in each jacket score.

BATHING SUITS $3.50 Up

He-men have the chance of their lives to look their best in a bathing suit this season! Here is a suit that looks as good "on the sidelines" as it feels "under the surface." Fine fabrics offer no resistance to water—you can swim freely, as fast as a streak. No stretching...no sagging. You need a Muse swimming suit. (For extra comfort in private pools you will enjoy some "wickies"—trunks—but no tops. Great for sun-bathing.)

Tomorrow will be a cheerier day if you'll spruce up in a new Muse tie. Try it. Folks will comment on it, too. The new pastels for summer are the swankiest of the swank. Just right for that grey—or that blue suit. Will you see them today?

CHARLIE YATES, BALL PRACTICE AT EAST LAKE

Youths Meet Jones and Sargent Sunday in Olympic Fund Match.

Determined to avenge a defeat some weeks ago, Charlie Yates and Eddie Sargent, youthful East Lake golfers, will spend this afternoon practicing for a match against Bobby Jones and George Sargent, at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the No. 2 East Lake afternoon for the benefit of the American Legion fund.

Yates and Ball were beaten by Jones and Sargent in a charity match more than a month ago, and are anxious for another opportunity to meet two players who have won the national amateur titles in years gone by.

Both are likely participants in a one-day novelty tournament at East Lake this afternoon as a means of practicing for Sunday's event, because his game was decidedly off form in the recent southeastern P. G. A. tournament at Atlanta.

What about baseball? A fellow named Babe Ruth, after 19 years, is still getting along with a timely blast now and then.

And one of the main spark plugs of the season is Rabbit Maranville, of the Boston Braves, now serving his twenty-first season under the big top. The Rabbit has been one of the main reasons for Boston's success. He has not only been playing fine baseball, but his fire and dash have been a big help to Bill McKechnie in his great battle for the National league summit.

Boston has been one of the large surprises of the year and the veteran Maranville has done more than his share.

The same holds for golf. The big scramble opens for the British championship in a few days and the three leading names are Eddie Sargent, Tom Price and Alister Mackenzie.

Tommy Armour is the favorite to win the title 22 years ago and he is still one of the world's greatest, with all the old smoothness left in his swing—one of the great swings of all time.

Tommy Armour was battling for an open crown 12 years ago, while Sarazen held a commanding lead in far back in 1922.

The main point here is that all three are playing their finest golf. I have never seen Sarazen hitting the ball so well, nor quite so full of confidence in his ability to go the round.

There ought to be some young star ready to take up the pace, but where is he, compared to this trio?

The Princes' tourney at Sandwich is a long hitting, grueling affair, which should belong to the power of youth, but it will still belong to the veterans unless there is an upset.

The Olympic games will be long largely to youth, and yet I doubt that any runner today can run Nurm's measure at the 10,000-meter distance and the man, if rival European nations will not be able to use his legs and feet at Los Angeles.

The Olympic games will be long largely to youth, and yet I doubt that any runner today can run Nurm's measure at the 10,000-meter distance and the man, if rival European nations will not be able to use his legs and feet at Los Angeles.

The

RAIL LIENS LEAD DECLINE IN BONDS

Daily Bond Averages.

(Copyright, 1932, Standard Statistics Co.)
New York, May 27.—(P)—The bond market was consistent today in recording another low average for the year. A slightly better tone was apparent, however, in the United States government list. The majority of liberties and treasures finished with net gains.

Reports from Washington that progress was being made toward balancing the budget, and that the sales tax proposal was gaining favor, also helped to add a tendency to dissipate some of the recent acute pessimism.

The railroads were the leading losers in the day's proceedings. A few transportation items ran against the trend, however, notably the New York Consolidated Rail due next Wednesday. Jumps 9½-2 points following reports that the road's refunding plan for this issue would be successful.

There were several especially weak spots among the carriers. Soft ones included the roads of Baltimore, Ohio, Cheyenne and of Kansas City, Southern and Northern Pacific.

Bonds of American Telephone and Consolidated Gas were subjected to pressure, new lows being made in bond issues.

Foreign loans were unsettled. Values totalled $14,044,000, par value, and the average for 40 corporate bonds recorded a loss of four-tenths of a point.

TRADE TRENDS
 BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUTOMOBILE PRODUCTION
 Early estimates of May output of automobiles are being revised upward as a result of increasing output by the Ford Motor Company. It is said that the trade indicates now that production will exceed 190,000 units, a 30 per cent gain over the April production of 146,581 units, as estimated by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. The

May production of the industry last year was 329,081 units.

COTTON TEXTILES—Business in cotton goods during the latter part of May was small, but the trade is hoping new curtailment efforts will strengthen the statistical position, says the Textile World. The acute condition in April has taught many mills the need of drastic reduction in output, it stated.

STEEL—Trade circles hear that several independent producers of finished sheets are preparing to announce an increase of $1 a ton for the third quarter business. Manufacturers of wire products also are reported considering an increase, though no specific amount has been decided upon.

MORTUARY
JOSEPH A. COUCH

Services for Joseph A. Couch, 84, of 1066 Longley avenue, who died Wednesday at 11 o'clock, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon at the Longley Avenue Christian church, with the Rev. A. Pease officiating. Interment will be in Edgewood cemetery. Two sons, J. B. Polk, Jr., and J. A. Polk, and two daughters, Miss Max and Miss Ethel Polk, of Atlanta. Arrangements are under the direction of Harry G. Poole & Co.

MRS. ELLA MCLENDON

Mrs. Ella McLendon, former Atlanta teacher of a Bible class in the West End Baptist church, died yesterday morning of her brother, F. McLendon, of LaGrange. Funeral services and interment were in LaGrange. Mrs. McLendon had been ill several years and was well known in West End. Besides her brother, she is survived by her son, Arthur Wood, of Rome, Ga., and two small daughters, Sarah Frances and several nieces and nephews.

MRS. ALTON LEVERT

Mrs. Alton Leverett, 59, of 33 Belena avenue, died early Friday morning at her home of a heart attack. Two days after her death, her son, H. H. Leverett, 27, of Atlanta, was awakened with sharp pains, it was said, and called his husband and two small daughters, Sarah Frances and Patricia, who are natives, to her bedside.

Dr. W. H. Knight officiating. Interment will be in Hollywood cemetery. Sam R. Greenberg in charge.
